CHEF GETS LIFE SENTENCE FOR MURDER

A CHEF who stabbed his former girlfriend to death in front of their daughter has been jailed for life.

Delton Coley, 36, who admitted murdering Daneshia Arthur at her Dagenham home, must serve at least 17 years.

Coley, of no fixed address, turned up at the address Daneshia shared with her family in Baden Powell Close, on March 18 this year, the Old Bailey heard on Monday.

He asked to see their daughter, but Daneshia, 30, initially refused. Coley returned a short while later and she allowed him into the property.

Coley had a set of knives in his rucksack and attacked Daneshia, stabbing her several times.

He left the flat, leaving her collapsed on the floor.

Her body was not discovered until later that evening when her mother returned home. An ambulance was called but Daneshia was pronounced dead at the scene.

Coley was found at an address in the Upton Park area the next day. He was arrested and charged with the murder.

Detective Inspector Andy Yeats, of the Met's Homicide and Major Crime Command, described Coley as a coward.

He said: "Immediately after attacking Daneshia, Coley had the opportunity to contact the emergency services and potentially save the life of the mother of his child. He chose not to do this, but instead fled the scene - a despicable act by a cowardly man."

The family said in a statement that the killing had 'destroyed the family'.

It read: "We are traumatised, broken hearted, emotionally unstable, shocked and finding it hard to accept that we have to experience such a great loss," her mother Colleen Ollivierre said after the trial ended.

"We have lost a very, very special daughter, mother, sister and friend. A very loving woman, a very caring woman with a good character and sense of humour. Daneshia was strong willed, motivated, trustworthy and reliable."

Her brother Gregory Arthur said: "Daneshia

JAILED: Murderer Delton Coley

was a focused and beautiful individual inside and out.

"To be taken from us in this manner is devastating and unjust. We have to pick up the pieces that this coward has left behind."

Pets and parasites

AS the summer weather fades and we look forward to the changing colour of the leaves, some of nature's smallest creatures will be keeping busy.

Despite the cooler climate of autumn, parasites are still commonplace in our homes, gardens and local environments such as parks, so here's our guide to some of the most popular of these tiny creatures and how to prevent/get rid of these unwanted house guests.

Fleas

Fleas love the warm weather - they also love central heating! Owners are often horrified to find fleas on their pet after they have diligently been applying a preventative flea product for months prior to these biting parasites' arrival.

Unfortunately not all flea products are equal, ones that only treat the adult flea do not prevent their eggs from hatching or render their larvae infertile. So although the adult flea is killed, your pet still brings home eggs that fall off in the house and find their way into the tiniest of places, waiting for it to get nice and warm before they hatch.

What to look for: check that your preventative flea treatment stops the flea lifecycle, not just adult fleas.

don't usually cause too many problems in people - however with close contact, sarcoptic mange mites from dogs can be transmitted to humans and cause scabies.

Mites generally cause intense itching leading to broken and infected skin, they can also be responsible for patchy hair loss or scurfy coats - for example Cheyletiella mites which cause 'walking dandruff' skin disease, often seen in rabbits.

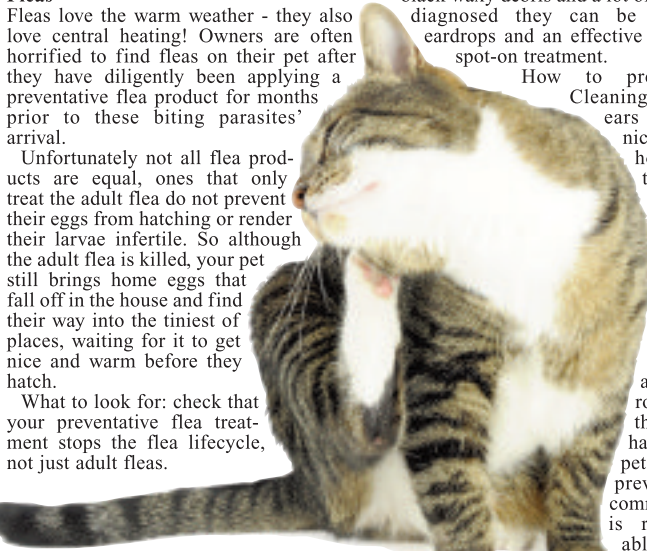

Ear mites are common causes of ear infections in cats and dogs. They typically cause black waxy debris and a lot of itching. Once diagnosed they can be treated with eardrops and an effective multi parasite spot-on treatment.

How to prevent mites:

Cleaning your pets' ears regularly is nice for your pet, however to truly prevent mites you should ask your vets for a suitable multi parasite prevention treatment.

Parasites are an all year round threat to the health and happiness of our pets. Fortunately prevention from common parasites is readily available, speak to your local vet for more information.

Mites

Mites are very small parasites, barely visible to the naked eye and part of the arachnids' family (microscopic spiders). Mites are usually fairly host-specific, so they

The big homes build begins

DIGGERS and JCBs have been out in force preparing for two massive housing regeneration projects in the borough.

Barking and Dagenham Council is carrying out a major programme of estate regeneration where swathes of tired housing will make way for modern homes.

Hundreds of tenants have been moved from their old homes while the building goes ahead, and will be able to move back to a brand new home if they want.

Councillor Cameron Geddes, council cabinet member for regeneration, said: "In the past these were very good council homes. But, their best days are behind them and it's time to build new homes in their place."

DEMOLITION: Work on the Gascoigne estate

END OF AN ERA: Jennie Coombs, regeneration manager at Barking and Dagenham Council, Cllr Barry Poulton, Thames ward councillor, Jim Dodd, development director at Countryside Properties, Cllr Phil Waker, cabinet member for customer services, Cllr Cameron Geddes, cabinet member for regeneration and Thames ward councillor and Mahbub Khandoker, development manager

Gascoigne Estate in Barking, and Leys Estate and Althorne Way in Dagenham are all being demolished to be replaced by new buildings.

Demolition of Dagenham's well known Goresbrook Village housing estate – dubbed Lego Land – is well under way.

The three 16-story tower blocks, built in the 1960s are coming down to make way for 149 new homes, 98 council houses and 51 for private sale.

Most of them – 72 per cent – will be three or four bedroom family houses, the rest will be two bed flats in low rise buildings, with 14 designed for wheelchairs.

Demolition firm Erith will carry structural demolition of the towers by controlled top-down deconstruction in combination with conventional demolition.

Works will be completed by the end of October.

The council is also redeveloping its biggest house estate – Gascoigne

Demolition work is going ahead on the first phase of the huge operation, part of the authority's estate renewal programme.

Four tower blocks and four low rise blocks at St. Margaret's will be demolished as part of the first phase – a total of 364 properties – to be replaced with brand new housing, which will be a mixture of social rent, affordable rent and privately owned homes.

In the second phase, scheduled to start during 2014, a further 934 homes will be demolished and replaced with new homes.

RECYCLE: Councillor Clyde Loakes helps unload unwanted furniture to restore

Waste not want not

A COUNCIL has increased the amount of rubbish it recycles by a quarter in the last two years.

The success is thanks to the authority's smarter way of dealing with waste – and giving residents more chances to recycle – according to Clyde Loakes, deputy leader and cabinet member for environment at Waltham Forest Council.

“We swapped small recycling boxes for green wheelie bins for newspapers, glass and plastic and collect them every week,” he said.

“We also take away up to five bulky items a week for free – every week of the year if necessary –, and we are picking up something like 25,000 items every 12 months.”

The council introduced Furnishing the Future in 2011 – which has won five national prizes since – which clears unwanted paint and furniture from empty homes, and uses what it collects to redecorate and pass on to needy families.

“We have a programme for volunteers on benefits to restore the furniture before we hand it out.”

“We also brought in bespoke services in some areas, like a new recycling scheme for flats over shops and organic waste collections from Walthamstow market, which sees ten tonnes recycled from there every week, and we have put 400 dual litter bins which separate waste from recyclables, on our streets.”

“We’ve found residents only too willing to recycle when they are given the chance,” he added.

Last year the amount of rubbish sent to landfill fell by 18,645 tonnes while recycling went up by 7,602 tonnes.

Police hunt girl with a rose tattoo

Accused of burglary, she went on the run

POLICE have released a photograph of Karen Leeder, who was arrested on suspicion of burglary but failed to answer police bail.

The 23-year-old from Barking was arrested in September 2012 but failed to answer police bail on May 9 this year.

She is described as 5ft 4ins tall with shoulder-length, dark, straight hair and three tattoos – a scroll with eyes on her lower back in the centre, the letters 'OCK' on her left hip and a rose flower on her right hip.

Anyone who knows where Karen Leeder is should call police on 101 or call Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Leisure centres packed in record-breaking summer

RECORD numbers visited leisure centres this summer.

Barking and Dagenham Council has seen visits soar with the temperature.

Becontree Heath Leisure Centre, which was used as a training venue during last year's Olympics, attracted more than 84,000 visitors, while Abbey Leisure welcomed more than 22,000 – both well up on last summer.

A brand new Barking Leisure Centre is being built to replace both Goresbrook and Abbey Leisure Centres, with a 25-metre pool, learner pool, 120-person gym, health spa and three dance/workout studios. Abbey Leisure Centre will shut in 2014 to make way for the new centre.

visitors in colourful activities, including face painting, helping to produce a mural and bike-powered painting.

Visitors can select a free item of furniture or bring along a piece from home that needs a bit of love to turn into a treasure for the home.

Poppy Flint from Paint Place said: "Our traditional Give or Take Days raise awareness about re-use and divert up to two tonnes of usable items from landfill."

"This event is a great opportunity for people to find out more about their environmental and social organisations in their area. Visitors can also share their ideas on what they would like to see happen in their community, maybe a patch of land they would like to garden or a fence in need of a splash of colour."

The day at Pimp Hall Nature Reserve, which is behind the Kings Road Recycling Centre, 48 Kings Road, Chingford, is on Saturday (September 14), from 11am to 3pm.

Danone Nations Cup World Final at Wembley Stadium

CHILD'S PLAY
France and Brazil battle it out in the final

FRANCE GET THEIR SPOT OF GLORY

France 0 Brazil 0
(France win 3-2 on pens)

By BRANDON LEE
Official Danone Nations Cup World Final reporter

ZINEDINE ZIDANE watched his young countrymen win the Danone Nations Cup World Final at Wembley Stadium on Saturday.

The French football legend (pictured below) is the Global Ambassador for the Danone Nations Cup – the world's biggest international football tournament for 10–12-year-olds – and the event showcased football's future stars from 32 international teams.

Local, regional, and national competitions took place over six months, throughout 32 countries, and 2.5million children from approximately 10,000 clubs and 32,000 schools took part, all culminating in France and Brazil making it to the prestigious world final.

There was a great atmosphere inside the iconic venue, and the 25,000 crowd made plenty of noise.

Throughout the 20-minute match, there were few chances for either team. France did beat the Samba keeper but it was adjudged to be offside.

France began to exert some early pressure in the second period and fired a free-kick into the yellow wall before another powerful effort was blazed high and wide into the crowd.

Brazil, in a rare foray forward, whipped in a dangerous cross which the French goalkeeper had to quickly get to before the onrushing forward.

Both sides appeared to be scared to make a crucial mistake, so there were few chances that followed, so it was penalties that would make or break the boys' hearts.

France scored all three penalties to win the tense shoot-out 3-2 and launch into a frenzied celebration.

The Brazilians were deflated but, despite his French loyalties, the legend that is Zidane immediately went over and consoled them.

It was a great gesture by a remarkable man.

Among the 32 teams, Team England showcased their footballing talents in front of lively home crowd and beat Russia an impressive 3-0 to clinch ninth place. Ireland showcased a high calibre of talent during the knock-out stages and played Japan in the semi-final and scooped fourth place.

Awards were presented to the 'Best Player' of the tournament, Hiro Satho from Japan, the 'Best Scorer' went to Bobby Duncan from Team England, and Japan won the 'Fair Play' award.

Zidane (below) said: "A massive congratulations to France for winning this year's Danone Nations Cup World Final. The teams all showed tremendous skill and professionalism on the pitch and I'm very proud to be a part of a fantastic program to help children develop their love for football and grow with respect for themselves and others around them. I wish everyone the best of luck in the future."

France prevailed in the end, but international youth football was the real winner.

MORE than 400 children from around the world descended into Wembley Stadium on Saturday to celebrate the world's largest international football tournament for 10-12 year olds at the Danone Nations Cup World Final.

The event saw the world's most promising U12 football teams compete at the iconic stadium.

And for Ethan Sanbury-Maddox, Ellis Jones and Thomas Williams from Emerson Park Academy in Hornchurch, it was a dream come true to play on the hallowed turf Steven Gerard, Frank Lampard, Joe Hart and Theo Walcott had trodden to defeat Moldova less than 24 hours before.

French legend, Zinedine Zidane, one of the greatest footballers ever, cheered the teams throughout the afternoon and took part in football chants and a giant Mexican wave alongside national tournament ambassadors John Scales (UK), Tom Ince (UK) and Gheorghe Hagi (Romania).

During the tense final between France and Brazil, it was 0-0 at the final whistle which took the game into penalties. Team France, were crowned the international winners as they beat Brazil on penalties (3:1), and were presented with their winning trophy by Zidane at the official tournament prize ceremony.

The event, which was hosted by British Olympic sprinter Iwan Thomas and TV presenter Abi Griffiths and included a special performance from Britain's Got Talent winners Diversity, football freestyler demonstrations and a giant zorbing competition which took place on the pitch.

Zinedine Zidane, Danone Nations Cup Ambassador, said: "A massive congratulations to France for winning this year's Danone Nations Cup World Final. Ian Forgie, Team England Coach, said: "The atmosphere here today has been incredible. Our team are so grateful for everyone who came down to watch and support us and all the international teams here today. It is an experience the kids will never forget and we are delighted to have been part of this."

Next year the Danone Nations Cup World Final will take place in Brazil.

Ilford suffer cup defeat

Stansted 4 Ilford 0
Essex Senior Cup supported by BBC
Essex First Round
By Mark Wallis

RYAN Barker-Francis' hat-trick, plus a first-half strike by Chris Gibbs, set the Airportmen from Stansted on their way into Round Two of the Essex Senior Cup thanks to a 4-0 win over Ilford.

The current season sees Stansted mark the 30th anniversary of their wonderful FA Vase victory at Wembley Stadium during 1983/4 and they made the perfect start to their Senior Cup challenge against Ilford in what was the first match of the campaign at the Hargrave Park venue they share with Stansted Cricket Club.

The visitors have won the competition a record 13 times but Stansted, adorned in their new silver kit, made a bright start and grabbed the ascendancy with just eight minutes on the clock.

A low Gibbs corner managed to find its way to the back post where Barker-Francis impressively swivelled on the ball before firing home just inside the upright. Further chances for the home side saw Chid Onokwai's 20-yard snapshot drift wide and Gibbs' stinging effort dip inches past the post before Barker-Francis doubled the lead with 25 played, latching onto a through-ball and neatly chipping over visiting goalkeeper Jordan Sole.

It was 3-0 ten minutes before the interval, this time Barker-Francis providing the assist as he pulled the ball back for Gibbs to smash in from 15 yards.

The hosts made a rapid start to the second period, Jeff Williams-Baah stabbing a shot into the gloves of Sole within seconds of the restart and Gibbs seeing a close-range effort bundled off the line by Tosin Osingike.

The first real opening for Ilford didn't arrive until the final five minutes of the contest when Eden Nelson's 20-yarder was deflected just wide of the post and the resulting Mikey Melim corner saw Chris Lockwood flick a header off-target, but the homesters' big win was sealed in the final minute.

Williams-Baah was fouled inside the penalty area and Barker-Francis duly sent 'keeper Sole the wrong way from twelve yards to complete his treble. Stansted next welcome Halstead Town as the competition intensifies with a spot in the Third Round, and a potential tie against one of the county's three Football League clubs, up for grabs.

Stansted: Ashley Law, George Clarke, Ricky Linton (Ricky Linton, 75), Iwan Lewis, Arron Clark, Gary Rowntree, Jake Buckland (Tom Le Masurier, 75), Chris Gibbs (Warren Graham, 75), Chid Onokwai, Jeff Williams-Baah, Ryan Barker-Francis.

Ilford: Jordan Sole, Aidan Lucas, Tosin Osingike, Tom Hobbrough (Rhys Barker, 46), Scott Hull, Mark Graves, Mikey Melim, Tom Cowans (Depass Hazio, 58), Eden Nelson, Ollie Dingli (Jack Luck, 66), Chris Lockwood.
